

Marc Trube

CFO of the Röchling Group
Röchling Real Estate

Marc Trube, born on November 6, 1964 in Cologne, Germany, earned a graduate degree in business administration from the University of Cologne after completing his apprenticeship as a qualified bank clerk at the Cologne City Savings Bank.

Trube began his career in 1993 at BFJM, a professional society of certified public accountants, tax consultants, and attorneys-at-law in Cologne. After passing his exam as a certified tax consultant, Trube joined VIVA Fernsehen GmbH & Co. KG as finance director. He then moved to the exchange-listed INTERSEROH group, where Trube served as commercial director for ISD INTERSEROH GmbH, Cologne, and for the INTERSEROH group. Trube was later appointed managing director of ISD INTERSEROH GmbH.

In 2002, Trube assumed the position of CFO at the Cologne-based pharmaceutical company Madaus AG. In 2008, Trube joined the Röchling Group. As a member of the Executive Board, he is responsible for the financial/administrative affairs and real estate.