

Franz Lübbers

Executive Board Röchling Group Industrial Division

Franz Lübbers finished secondary school and then attended the Academy for Administration and Business Management in Nordhorn, where he earned a degree in business administration.

In 1974, he joined Röchling Haren KG and completed an apprenticeship as industrial manager. He worked in export sales before moving to Röchling Sustaplast KG in 1991 to assume the position of Sales Director. In 1999, he became Managing Director of the newly acquired company Röchling Trovidur in Troisdorf. As a result of the merger with Röchling Engineering Plastics KG and the establishment of the Thermoplastic Semi-Finished Product division, Lübbers took the position of General Manager of Sales and Marketing. In 2010, he was also assigned the position of Managing Director of Sales and Marketing at Röchling Sustaplast KG.

From 2011 to 2016, Lübbers has been Director of the Business Unit Thermoplastics Sales and Marketing within Röchling's Industrial division.

In January 2017, Lübbers was appointed to the Executive Board of the Röchling Group and is responsible for the Industrial division. In addition, he is Chief Executive Officer of Röchling Engineering Plastics SE & Co. KG, Haren.
